Changing Animals

"...photographs are detailed and close-up, offering an excellent complement to the brief but informative text. An excellent thematic series to introduce the concept of metamorphosis."
– School Library Journal, Series Made Simple, November 2016

Did you know that newts begin their lives with gills and grow lungs to breathe air as they get older? Readers will be amazed at the metamorphosis or changes that each animal or insect makes. Simple text and vivid photographs will help illustrate these processes and make information clear.

"It's no secret what preschoolers will find lurking in the pages of the Dinosaurs series, each volume of which examines one type of dinosaur. Here young readers can learn about when the dinosaur lived, its body and diet, and where its fossils have been found. Hansen's writing strikes a nice balance between simple and scientific..."

The Coronavirus

Grades PreK–2
Reading level: Grade 1
Abdo Kids Jumbo

The novel coronavirus has likely changed the lives of most, if not all, people around the world. As we know, education is key—even for the youngest of readers. This series will take a look at what COVID-19 is, what a coronavirus is, the people risking their lives each day to keep the world moving, and the amazing technology that exists and is being created to fight the disease. Other titles will cover what social distancing and distance learning are, and what kids can do to connect with their friends, teachers, family, and community during these unprecedented times.

Super-Awesome Science

"The linking of science to other academic skills throughout the series is a refreshing and rewarding feature. This set is bound to get kids excited. A fine addition to school and public libraries."
– School Library Journal, Series Made Simple, November 2016

Our world is full of amazing natural and human-made marvels. From fish that live under bone-crushing pressure to cars that shatter the sound barrier, these wonders can seem like fantasy. This series reveals how science makes the strangest forces of nature and most awe-inspiring human feats possible.

Team Earth

Grades 4–8
Reading level: Grade 4
Core Library

Around the world, animals work with other living things to create unique and balanced ecosystems. Bees help plants make seeds. Birds scatter seeds so plants can grow. Gophers loosen the soil, letting water and nutrients easily reach roots. Cleaner fish keep other fish healthy by eating parasites. This series investigates the amazing ways that animals help their environments and humans, and shows what people can do to protect them.

Engineering Disasters

Grades 4–8
Reading level: Grade 4
Core Library

From a pair of shoes to the tallest skyscraper, the world is full of things designed by engineers. But if engineers, builders, and maintenance crews aren't careful, their mistakes can have disastrous consequences. Human error has led to major floods and nuclear disasters. Oversights and miscalculations can result in cars bursting into flames and aircraft falling out of the sky. This series explores what went wrong in such disasters and why it is important for everyone involved, from engineers to maintenance crews, to be careful and responsible in their work.

Inside Your Body

"These well-bound books feature colorful illustrations that show a diverse selection of youth suffering the ailments that afflict all children, with close-ups of signs and symptoms. Add these to the nonfiction collection for primary students who wish to read about these topics or engage in beginning research."
– School Library Connection, March/April 2019

Kids will love learning all about how their bodies work with this fun and fact-packed series. From asthma to pink eye to head lice, this engaging series explores some of the illnesses and ailments that are most likely to keep kids home from school. Easy-to-read text, fascinating photographs, and colorful graphics help young readers explore what's going on inside of them while learning key science concepts.

The Alphabet

Grades PreK–2
Reading level: Grade K
Abdo Kids Junior

This series will help new readers recognize the shapes and sounds of the letters in the alphabet. Each book focuses on one letter. That letter is subtly bolded, and its sounds are frequently repeated throughout each title. New and stronger readers alike will enjoy the alliteration, fun content, and colorful photographs.

Perspectives on American Progress

Grades 4–8
Reading level: Grade 4
Core Library

DUCHESS HARRIS COLLECTION

The United States has been changing throughout its history. Whether fighting for women's rights or landing people on the moon, Americans have come together to make the country a better place. Perspectives on American Progress looks at pivotal moments in US history through the eyes of important people who were involved. Readers will examine primary sources and discover how these historic events forever changed the United States.

#Movements

"The #Movements series is as timely as they come....It's a balanced and encouraging look at activism that avoids getting mired in details. What's more, this book will speak to students as they see their peers making a difference."

– Booklist, October 2019

This compelling series teaches students the basics of today's modern social justice movements. Each book will explore a current and recent social movement, focusing on how social media helped form, support, and spread the movement's message. Photos and hashtag posts help give these important movements context for young readers.

Core Library Guide to COVID-19

Grades 4–8
Reading level: Grade 4
Core Library

In late 2019, health officials noticed a new disease spreading in Wuhan, China. They named it COVID-19. Within a few months, it became a pandemic that dramatically changed life for nearly everyone on Earth. Millions of people became sick, and hundreds of thousands died. Leaders ordered whole states and countries to stay home to slow the disease's spread. Companies closed or went out of business. Meanwhile, health-care workers on the front lines saved lives and raced to find treatments. In this series readers will learn about the disease, how it spread across the globe, and the ways it has changed society.

Women in Sports

Women's contributions to the sports world have helped shape the future for today's young athletes. Women in Sports celebrates the pioneers who paved the way and the stars of today who amaze us with their athletic excellence.

Aligned to Common Core standards & correlated to state standards

"The series' authors write objectively about the struggle for women's rights in sports history, without concealing facts, in an age-appropriate manner. Though recommended for a fifth grade reading level, I would not be shy to include this in a high school library as it provides basic information about several poignant moments. Recommended."

The Wild West

"This series brings the time period into perspective without losing any of its vitality or wonder. High-interest, curriculum-related content attractively presented. A sound purchase."
– School Library Journal, Series Made Simple, November 2016

FEATURES:
- Primary sources with accompanying questions
- Credentialed content consultants
- Prompts and activities
- Charts, graphs, diagrams, timelines, and maps

The time of westward expansion in the 1800s has become a legendary era in American history. Tales of cowboys, outlaws, and frontier adventures still resonate in popular culture. The Wild West separates myth from reality, bringing to life the triumphs, tragedies, and colorful characters that shaped the West.

First Ladies

This series introduces readers to some of the women who shaped history in the White House.

Aligned to Common Core standards & correlated to state standards

"The books in the First Ladies series offer very amiable accounts of their subjects... [and] are decent introductory primers to America's female leaders. Kids can learn more if they read the back matter, and links to ABDO's online resources further that goal."

"We can put a message in this bottle," Shaggy said, holding up the pen.
"Rave us!" said Scooby.
Shaggy wrote SAVE US on the paper and put it in the bottle. Scooby and his new friend the crab tossed the bottle into the sea.
"Someone will find the message and rescue us," said Shaggy.

My Family

Young readers will learn about diversity in a gentle manner through the eyes of second grader Lenny. Lenny shadows his classmates, taking pictures for a special report on the Students of the Week. Through innocent, simple questions, Lenny makes new friends and discovers love makes a family.

"This is a warm and idealized look at blended families with happiness at each end. The stylized cartoon artwork features large-headed characters (they resemble bobble-head dolls) with extra large eyes and smiling expressions. A pleasantly painted picture of blended family life for the primary school crowd."

Pip didn't like that.
Then Silo plopped down next to Squeak in the barn. After Aunt Jane groomed Pip and Squeak, she groomed Silo! She put a bow around his neck.
"We're twins," said Silo.
Pip didn't like that.

During the Horsey Hokey Pokey, Silo put his tail in. Then he put his tail out. Then he and Squeak shook them all about.
Pip didn't like that.
But most of all, Pip didn't like Silo.
She didn't like him one itty-bitty bit.

Esha was right! I climbed up onto the float. I took pictures of Charlie doing a belly flop, Gracie shooting water out of her mouth, and Paisley catching a teeny tiny fish with her hand.

By the time we got out of the lake, it was almost dinnertime. After we showered and brought my memory card to Mrs. Matthews, dinner was almost over.

Chef Piper waved her spoon when she saw me. "Can't wait to see the pictures."

The Critter Club

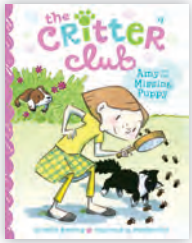

In the small California town of Santa Vista, 8-year-olds Amy, Marion, Liz, and Ellie each have their own distinct personalities and interests, but one thing the girls have in common is a serious love of animals. With the help of an eccentric millionaire and the town vet, the four best friends help found and maintain the Critter Club, a rescue shelter set on saving "lost and lonely" animals.

The Adventures of Sophie Mouse

"Oh!" Sophie cried in surprise. "Hello!"

The chipmunk didn't answer. He stood beside Sophie's easel, flicking his tail. He put his nose up close to her painting. He looked at Sophie. He looked down at her paints.

Then, in a flash, he grabbed the paintbrush from the jar of clover green. He zipped away.

"Hey!" Sophie cried. "Stop!" She dropped her other brush and chased after him. "Come back here with my paintbrush!"

Join Sophie Mouse and her forest friends in Silverlake Forest as they make a new friend, learn to swim at Forget-Me-Not Lake, find an unlucky four-leaf clover, and more! The Adventures of Sophie Mouse is perfect for beginning readers with easy-to-read language and illustrations on almost every page.

Maddy McGuire, CEO

Place many times before. This was the first time without a grown-up.

But Rasheed was waiting. She looked once more at the selections.

Mom always insisted Maddy get savory pie. Savory, Maddy learned, meant main course-y, not dessert-y.

But today, Mom wasn't here. Today, Maddy was handling things. And she was going sweet!

These early chapter books feature spunky, budding CEO Maddy McGuire as she tries out different businesses, from pet camp to nonprofit. Throughout the series, she discovers different skills that help her be a great entrepreneur, including organization, enthusiasm, math skills, and more.

"I was just hanging this wreath on the door. Where are you two going?" Belle said cheerfully.

"I need to get some holly for Cogsworth," the Beast said nervously. "But I think it might be too slippery outside for you, Chip."

"I can come with you—if you'd like company," Belle offered.

"Of course," the Beast replied, trying not to show how nervous he was. The Beast glanced back over his shoulder at Chip. "We'll be back soon."

"Bye!" Chip called as the heavy door closed behind them. He rushed toward the Royal Jewelry Chamber for a very important mission of his own!

Up2U Adventures

The Up2U Adventures chapter books have the multiple story line feel, but aren't as confusing for reluctant readers! Readers follow an engaging, character-driven story line and then make the last major decision for the character from three options. The ending is Up2U!

"The stories move along well and keep the reader engaged. The series can be fun while showing students that choices have consequences. Recommended."

– School Library Connection, March/April 2018

"The adventures are mostly tame and perfect for readers looking for a creepy early chapter book.... Recommend these titles to those who would enjoy the freedom of choosing their own endings."

– School Library Journal, December 2013

Alexander looked into the monster's fiery red eyes. "Take your best shot, monster."

GRAH-HA-HAAAR!

The candy-saurus's roar sounded like a laugh. Then it swung its wrecking-ball tail at Alexander.

WHOOSH!

Alexander ducked. He could feel the rush of wind as the jawbreaker shot over his head.

WHACK! The monster's heavy tail slammed into Antville. The giant ant farm exploded. The playground was covered with sand and wood. And, of course, ants.

CHAPTER 16 FEELING ANTSY

A gazillion ants streamed out of Mr. Plunkett's broken ant farm.

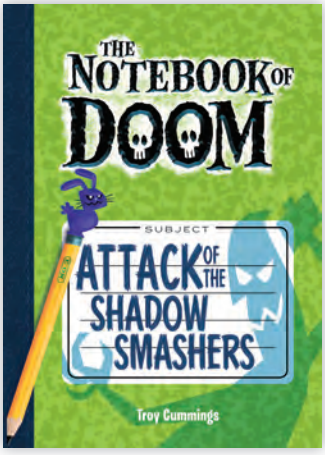

"GRAAAR?"

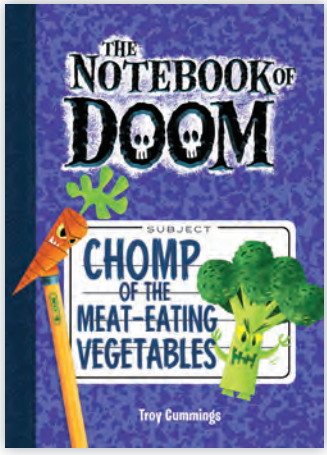

The candy-saurus picked up one foot. Then the other. Soon it was doing a little dance.

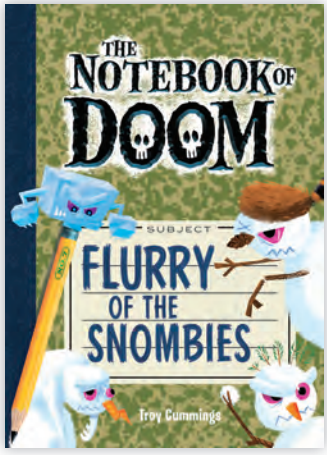

Within seconds, the candy monster was up to its gumdrops in ants.

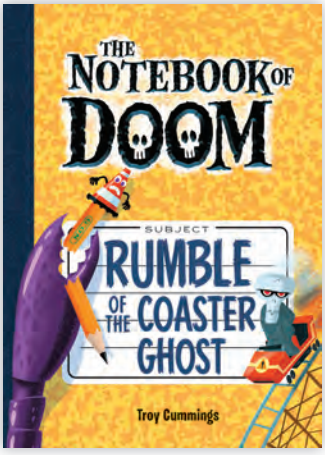

The candy-saurus roared one last time before it was completely covered with hungry ants.

Tyler. "We'd better go get our camping stuff out of the van and get set up."

"I think it would be best if I stay with Tyler's cousin," Sean suggested. "I'll have computer access there, and I can work on editing video."

Gabe put his hands on his hips and stared at his friend. "We haven't shot anything that needs editing."

Sean spread his own hands, palms up. "I want to be prepared."

"You just want to get out of being attacked by a giant bird," Tyler grumbled.

"Actually, he probably wants to skip out on sleeping in a sleeping bag," Gabe countered.

"I do find I work better indoors," Sean admitted.

Ghost Detectors

Ten-year-old Malcolm's favorite day is when his science magazine arrives. He immediately turns to the back, where he comes across an ad for an Ecto-Handheld-Automatic-Heat-Sensitive-Laser-Enhanced Specter Detector. When it arrives, it works! Malcolm and his best friend Dandy meet ghosts all around their neighborhood and become Ghost Detectors!

"This is a great new series to offer reluctant readers.... The gross humor and boy problems of this book will make it a hit with boys who check first to see how many pages and how many pictures there are."
– Library Media Connection, May/June 2010

FEATURES:
- Ghost detecting tips
- Humorous ghost stories for reluctant readers
- Large type for transitional readers

She scooped up one of the dolls from the floor and began hugging it. "A Little Cutie," she cooed. "Just like I always wanted."

When she said this, the dolls tumbled over in a quiet heap. Dandy untwisted a troll from his hair and tossed it to the floor. "Are you sure that's a Little Cutie?"

The ghost appeared. "Of course it is." She drifted over to Grandma Eunice. "Do you really like her?"

Grandma Eunice nodded. Her eyes sparkled. "I always wanted one."

"You'll take care of her?" the ghost asked.

"The best care in the world."

The ghost looked at her for a long moment. Grandma Eunice just hugged the doll and smiled. Finally, the ghost smiled too. "I can leave her with you. But don't let anything happen to her. Somewhere, Granny is watching."

And with that, the ghost disappeared.

Grandma Eunice hugged the Little Cutie doll as Malcolm and Dandy slowly pushed her home. "I hope Pop Quiz Porter

Graveyard Diaries

Grades 2–5
Reading level: Grade 3
Calico

Jared, Stan, Mitch, Barry, and Amy live in the small town of Marshfield, or "Graveyard City." The town has four old cemeteries, and each kid lives next to one. They've witnessed so many strange things in the graveyards that they've formed a group called the Zombie Hunters! But they hunt more than just zombies—they track ghosts, hobgoblins, and vampires, too.

Lucky 8

"The series features charming illustrations that suit the spooky, fantastical tone of the books and will draw in middle grade readers. The text is very readable, with bold fonts featured throughout."
– School Library Journal, February 2018

Makayla and Liam Park have just moved into Deadwood Hill. While the house is new to them, a witch lived on that exact spot centuries ago. Liam discovers a Magic 8 Ball in the attic that knows things it shouldn't. Is it helpful or haunted? Does the Magic 8 Ball have something to do with a girl's disappearance last year? Can the Magic 8 Ball help Makayla and Liam rescue the missing girl?

Ursula's Funland

Ursula's Funland had been closed for many years. There was a mysterious accident there years ago, and much of the park burned down. The local townspeople are thrilled when the park reopens–that is, until some creepy things start happening. Are the ghosts of those who died in the accident haunting the park?

flashed on and off in the narrow shaft below.

"I'm in," she cheered, looking at the short ladder that led down to the generator.

"That's great, Sis. Hurry though. We've got another problem. Actually, make that two problems."

"What are you talking about?" Lina asked just as she noticed something moving out of the corner of her eye. She looked up to see a pair of starfighters racing after the Whisper Bird.

"THEY'RE COMING IN FAST," Milo said, checking the rear sensors.

"Too fast!" CR-8R agreed.

"Try being out here with them!" Lina shouted over the comms.

"Get into the engineering section, Sis," Milo suggested. "Perhaps they won't–"

The fighters roared over the top of the Whisper Bird, zooming past the ship.

"They're gone," Lina breathed.

Milo sank back into his chair. "I thought they were after us," he said, his voice shaking.

"They're heading toward Thune," CR-8R reported. "As are we, if you haven't remembered!"

whipped around. The little droid stood alone, as if frozen. The worm loomed over BB-8, its jaws wide, its tongues wiggling, poised to strike.

"Not today!" Rey shouted, and just as the creature lunged forward, she shoved her staff vertically into its jaws, cramming the weapon hard against the roof of its mouth and sensing instead of hearing its screech of pain and surprise.

Rey shoved BB-8.

"Get going!" she ordered.

Rey shot a glance over her shoulder as they ran. The worm was thrashing back and forth with the staff holding its mouth open. She could see the staff bending, more, a little more, into a U-shape. Suddenly, the staff shot out of the worm's mouth.

Rey flung herself forward, grabbing at the staff. The spinning stick thumped into her hands and she landed neatly, feet apart, body poised.

"Aaand—thank you! Keep moving, BB-8!"

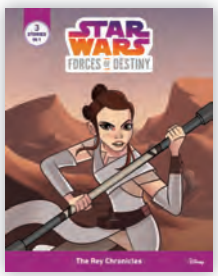

BB-8 beeped as he rolled.

The worm disappeared again, burrowing

Stink

"The text will challenge, without taxing, beginning readers and provide struggling readers with the chance to be successful. Young readers will get a kick out of Stink and his adventures, whether they read them independently or hear the stories read aloud. Recommended."

– Library Media Connection, October 2010

In Stink's solo adventures, his special style comes through loud and strong! In honor of Judy Moody's younger "bother," the creators of this award-winning series have put themselves in a very Stink-y mood—proving, once and for all, that you're only as short as you feel.

Franny K. Stein, Mad Scientist

Franny K. Stein is not your average girl—she's a mad scientist. She prefers poison ivy to daisies, and when Franny jumps rope, she uses her pet snake. The kids in Franny's class think she's weird, wacky, and just plain creepy. Let your readers decide for themselves when they read these fabulously funny stories.

Rotten School

"Park's madcap cartoons of freckle-face, bespectacled narrator Bernie Bridges (aka "Big B") and his buds Belzer, Feenman and Crench combined with Stine's wacky dialogue result in a kind of Fat Albert dynamics that will make kids want to visit this boarding school again and again."
– Publishers Weekly, 2005

If you follow the rules, we know your time at Rotten School will be happy. RULE NUMBER ONE: Watch out for Bernie Bridges. Bernie is trouble! That is my important message. Enjoy your stay. I know that after a short while, you will all truly deserve the name Rotten Students.

Game Face

Sports Report "Maya, a strong female protagonist, shows there is a place for women in the male-dominated sports-reporting world. One of four new releases in the engaging Game Face series."
– Booklist, January 2018

In Game Face, each player gets to narrate their own story, focusing on their sport of choice. Whether it's a basketball rematch against a rival school or a hockey tryout, they all face their weaknesses and find their strengths. But with focus, perseverance, and support, these middle schoolers won't just win the big game, they'll win over readers!

Star Wars™: Poe Dameron

Grades 6–12
Reading level: Grade 4
Graphic Novels

General Leia Organa has tasked Poe Dameron and his team of pilots, Black Squadron, with finding an explorer who may know Luke Skywalker's location. Their travels lead them to a planet whose residents worship a massive egg and a deadly prison complex ruled by its prisoners. Finding their explorer won't be easy, especially when they have the First Order following them and a vengeful agent bent on destroying them.

Star Wars™: Rogue One

Grades 6–12
Reading level: Grade 4
Graphic Novels

In an interstellar civilization, scientist Galen Erso is taken from his home and forced to work on the Empire's secret planet-killing weapon, leaving his daughter, Jyn, to grow up on her own. Fifteen years later, Galen leaks information on the weapon, through a message he sends to some bandits on the moon Jedha. Now, the rebels of the Alliance want to know if the rumors of an imperial Death Star are true. They'll need Jyn to help retrieve the message and, possibly, her father.

"Easy to follow text and colorful pictures bring these chilling tales to life.... A great deal of thought went into what text to include to develop the main plot points. Best for middle grades, but high school students who are fans of graphic versions or struggling with the story will find these options appealing.... Teachers looking to introduce these stories or reinforce the plot points in each will welcome these titles. Recommended."
