Take a Stand

Many frontline workers are paid low wages.

When they started working at grocery stores and restaurants, they did not know that someday they would be on the front lines during a pandemic. Do you think these workers should have been paid more money during the pandemic? Should they be paid more always? Or do you think their jobs are fine the way they are now? Why?

Why Do I Care?

Maybe you do not work on the front lines. But that doesn't mean you can't think about the roles frontline heroes played during the pandemic. How do essential businesses and workers affect your life? Do you have friends or family working on the front lines? How might your life be different without frontline workers?

Another View

This book talks about some workers' experiences on the front lines. As you know, every source is different. Ask a librarian or another adult to help you find another source about COVID-19 frontline workers. Write a short essay comparing and contrasting the new source's point of view with that of this book's author. What is the point of view of each author? How are they similar and why? How are they different and why?
