

Dragons

Surprise Me

Chapter Three discusses how dragon legends may have started. The way a legend forms can be interesting and surprising. After reading this book, what two or three facts about dragons and dragon legends did you find most surprising? Write a few sentences about each fact. Why did you find them surprising?

Dragons

Tell the Tale

Chapter One of this book discusses King Beowulf's battle with a dragon. Write 200 words telling the story of another hero's battle against a dragon. Describe the sights and sounds before, during, and after the battle. What might the hero be worried about? Be sure to set the scene, develop a sequence of events, and include a conclusion.

Dragons

Dig Deeper

After reading this book, what questions do you still have about dragons? Do you want to learn more about their appearance or behavior? Do you want to learn more about different dragon legends around the world? Write down one or two questions to guide your research. With an adult's help, find a few reliable sources about dragons to help answer your questions. Write a few sentences about how you did your research and what you learned from it.

Dragons

Another View

This book has a great deal of information about dragons. As you know, every source is different. Ask an adult, such as a librarian, to help you find another source about dragons. Write a short essay comparing and contrasting the new source's point of view with that of this book's author. What is the point of view of each author? How are they similar, and why? How are they different, and why?